"Polyflor offer multiple quality design options. The products are fast and easy to install, low maintenance (polish free) products that have high commercial resistance and are cost effective to stay within our budget.

We chose this product for a dental office. The office needed a commercial grade, solid surface but with a product that will be more sound absorbent than ceramic tile.

Polyflor's Product Consultant was a great help on this project. He guided me through their different collections and provided me with multiple samples to get the approval of our client on the final design. The service was fast and efficient helping us to finalize everything on time."
