Expona Commercial PUR

High design luxury vinyl tile flooring from Polyflor's Expona Commercial collection was recently chosen as part of a sophisticated and stylish interior design scheme for Handbag Clinic in Islington, London.

Handbag Clinic specialises in the care, repair and restoration of designer handbags and leather fashion accessories, as well as selling preowned luxury goods in their handbag boutique. The design scheme for the Islington branch refurbishment was created by Aubury Design, a Newcastle-based interior design service.

Expona Commercial luxury vinyl tiles in the Crème Swirl design were selected for the shop floor area. The subtle Crème Swirl design from the Abstract effects collection within Expona Commercial has high end design appeal, complementing the store interior and the luxury handbags on display. The same design was also installed in the Newcastle branch of Handbag Clinic.

Sally Rea, Interior Designer at Aubury Design commented, "We were really impressed with the wide variety of stunning effects within the Expona Commercial range so there was plenty of choice when it came to selecting a beautiful floor design that would fit in with the plans we had for Handbag Clinic. I loved that the Crème Swirl luxury vinyl tiles gave the effect of marble flooring but at a cost that was suitable for our budget."
